Like almost any high school, Norwalk High provides an excellent picture of the wide variations found within the boundaries of an ordinary school routine.

To anyone outside the school, it appears and functions as a unit. Even the expression "the student body" shows how much students are regarded as a group of similar people.

They do, of course, share a great many experiences simply because they spend at least six hours a day together. They cheer for the same teams, eat in the same cafeteria, use the same study hall, meet the same teachers.

Bracketed together by age levels, they find many contemporaries who share their worries and enthusiasms—and many others who do not.

But in the makeup of school life there is room for each student to determine his individual pattern. With the many activities open to all students, the wide range of subjects making up the curriculum, everyone has the chance to follow his own particular inclinations.

From this conglomeration of types, sizes and temperaments come all the actions and traditions that are Norwalk High.

OIVERSITY IN UNITY
--in Academics

Nowhere is diversity more important than in education today. In a modern world where new ideas are introduced and new discoveries announced daily, a liberal education is vital to understanding and success.

A high school graduate is the product of years of learning and growth, influenced by both classroom learning and outside experience. Although each member of any class is subjected to many of the same influences, the resulting characters differ greatly.

Every teacher contributes to the student in some measure, by factual knowledge, understanding of people, or attitudes toward learning. It would be hard not to profit by several years in an atmosphere where so many ideas are available.

Better Education Is Board's Goal

Continuing as always its efforts toward improving educational standards in Norwalk, the Board of Education, headed by Dr. George F. Linn, president, has outlined a new building program and inaugurated an improved curriculum.

Working with the Board in these efforts are the administration and faculty. Mr. James H. McBride, superintendent, finds time between visits to the five elementary schools to confer with Mr. James N. Ross, principal, on matters related to high school operations.

Well-known for his sense of humor, especially at pep rallies where he often bolsters lagging spirits, Mr. Ross devotes his school day to advising students and teachers with problems.

Mr. Lowell Ruggles, assistant principal, talks with students about tests and required subjects. Mr. Ruggles received his master's degree from Bowling Green State University in January.

Scholarship Mark Of Every Teacher

Finally and always, every teacher is a scholar. Scholarship is composed of many things: seeking, studying, observing, searching, and researching.

Scholarship is well represented at Norwalk High School. Each year more than one third of the graduating class continues its education. Eighteen teachers hold master's degrees, while six others have had five years of training.

Scholarly attitudes and dedication to teaching have existed at Norwalk since earliest times. Of the present faculty, six have taught twenty years or more at Norwalk, and four are veterans of at least thirty years here. Seven alumni have returned as teachers at Nor-

Improved teaching standards being set by officials should insure continued education in the best manner. As universities raise their standards, only well-fitted aspirants will become the teachers and scholars of tomorrow.

DISPLAYS commemorating the Civil War centennial draw the attention of Henry Timman, Ohioana Library Association member.

Sciences, Civil War,

Norwalk's academic program has produced several outstanding scholars this year. National Merit finalists were Janet Freeman, Vivian Keinonen, and Stuart Rubinow. Vivian also ranked ninth among all girls in the Ohio Scholarship Test.

Interest in government and history was awakened by the inauguration of John F. Kennedy as President. A television set purchased by the school for viewing educational programs was installed in the auditorium for the occasion.

Displays in the library and special reports in classes prompted students to renew their interest in the American Civil War. This marks the beginning of the Civil War centennial, and special emphasis is being placed upon this subject.

Future scientists received a rare treat when Mr. Thomas Myser, traveling science teacher, spent a week here giving demonstrations.

CLOSE STUDY of a frog dissection by Mr. Thomas Myser, traveling science teacher, occupies biologists during Science Week.

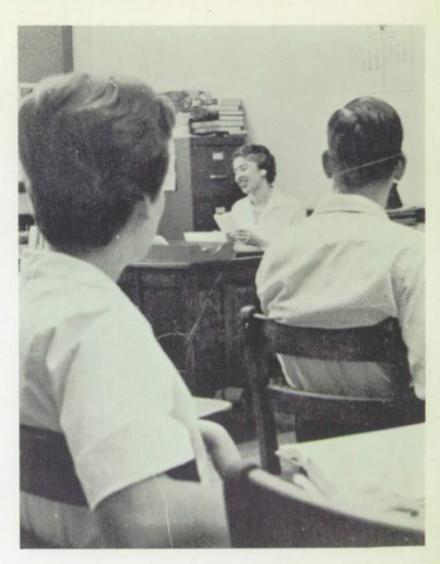

STUDENTS crowd the auditorium to watch John F. Kennedy take his oath as President.

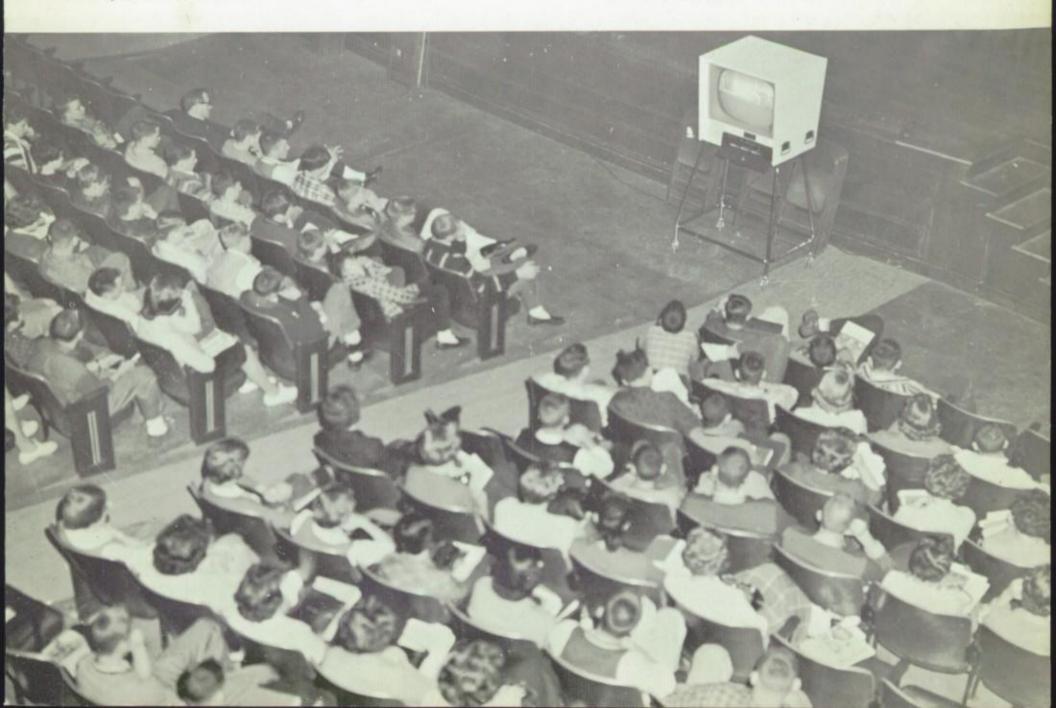

Election Pace Year

A HAND goes up as Miss Ruth Bell poses the question, "What time is it in London when it is noon in Norwalk?" to her first-year science students.

OUTLINING TERM paper requirements to senior English students, Mrs. Martha McConaha draws the full attention of students.

DISASSEMBLING a universal joint to see what makes it tick takes the combined effort of David Stoldt and John Warner, first-year auto mechanics students.

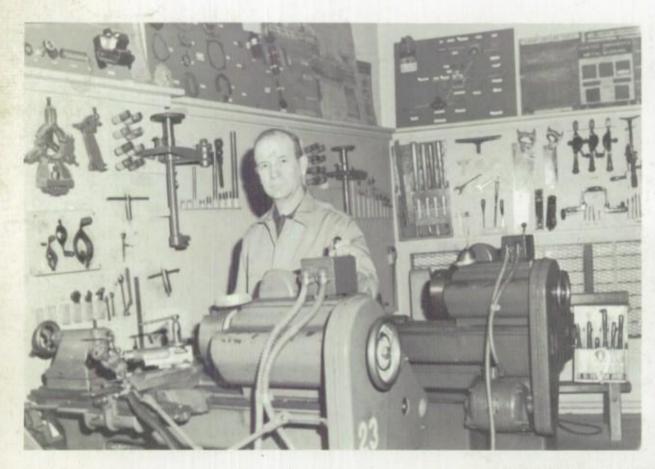

Vocational Skills Offer Challenge

Vocational subjects still remain favorites of those students who enjoy working with their hands.

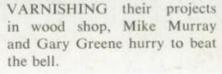

Mechanical skills are furthered in auto mechanics and metal shop. Uses of tools and machines in modern industry are also learned in these classes.

Secretarial courses are favored by those who plan a career in the stenographic field. Dictaphones have become more popular recently, and secretaries in big business must learn to use this method of recording dictation. Typing, that old stand-by for doing homework and book reports, gives students a skill which can be used all through life.

Studying nutrition and planning meals, prerequisites to "good housekeeping," gives home economics girls new and better dietetic ideas.

GOOD equipment is necessary for good teaching, and Mr. Herbert Rolsten is justifiably proud of his tool-lined rooms where he teaches classes in metal working.

SERVICE with a smile seems the password as Betty Kettle serves Mrs. Howard Turnley at an eighth-grade home economics tea. Betty Russell looks on and Brenda Turnley waits in line.

PRACTICE and concentration make the good typist, and these first-year students try their best to improve accuracy.

SKETCHING in art class is Sue Alleshouse, whose prize-winning safety poster will be displayed next fall along with eight other state winners.

Students Develop

Art, physical education, and music round out school activities with appeal and vigor at Norwalk.

Poster makers for holiday programs and special events are the art students. Yearly they take prizes at the county fair for carvings, posters, and other outstanding creations.

The highest award this year was won by Sue Alleshouse in the All-Ohio Safety Poster Contest. Her safety poster was one of nine top entries from more than 1500 Ohio schools.

Junior high art students created a Nativity scene of papier-mâché people and animals, while all classes made soap carvings.

Physical fitness is necessary for strong bodies and strong minds. Athletics and physical education help make better living through good health and welldeveloped sportsmanship.

CLAY SCULPTURING occupies Judie Skinn, Earl Stoltz, Joan Stiver, Pat Shutts, Bev Jarvis.

LEADING the band is a familiar chore for Mr. R. P. Laycock, veteran music director. The band and orchestra often play Mr. Laycock's own works.

Body and Mind

Besides routine gymnastics, girls' gym classes held a basketball tournament, with one team from each class. Two weeks of fitness tests determined stamina and endurance of boys.

Vocal and musical organizations presented concerts and holiday programs throughout the year. The Christmas program featured both the mixed and the girls' choruses.

Largest project of the chorus this year was the operetta, "The Fortune Teller," by Victor Herbert. This was presented March 25.

Fulfilling another year of requested duties, the band and orchestra played at Christmas and Easter assemblies. The marching band played in local parades and at all football games. The IMPA concert was held March 7 with both groups performing.

SKILL and co-ordination develop in physical education. Nancy Pool and Sandy Winchester jump for the ball, as Susan Olsen and Laura Aston wait for the rebound.

81VERSITY IN UNITY --in Student Life

In any relationships among people diversity is everything. Without the differences between one person and the next, life would be a flat experience.

High school is an opportunity for teenagers to meet others their age who have enough similar interests to be compatible and enough differing ones to be stimulating.

Many students who might never meet because of their unlike pursuits become friends simply because they are part of the same class.

Others become friends in spite of the age or class barrier because they enjoy so many of the same things. The activities and memories they share form a lasting bond between classmates, no matter how dissimilar.

Seniors Set Pace In New Positions

Unexpectedly, the warm fall day that began the seniors' last year was like any other first day of school. It took the new seniors several weeks to adjust to their new roles. They kept calling their classmates juniors and the graduates seniors.

However, they settled into the new routine, enjoying special assembly seats and berating underclassmen for lack of proper respect.

They took intense pride in the senior football players, three of whom were named all-league, and in the all-senior Homecoming court.

With the realization that they had become the leaders, seniors grew more self-confident, less anxious to conform. With studied nonchalance they took their places as the pacesetters in all aspects of school life.

Seniors Stand Out As School Leaders

Typically enthusiastic, seniors plunged into the varied activities of their last year. The busyness was usually stimulating, occasionally overwhelming. No matter what they finished, it seemed there was always something more to do.

With the assurance gained from their seniority, twelfth graders took command in school organizations. Many new holders of responsible positions were surprised to find how much time and hard work went into running a club.

Class functions, too, took more time than ever before. For the first time the class was really a group, and its meetings and offices had some meaning. Seniors gave their time to serve on committees for class activities.

It was a year when those who could handle it found additional responsibility.

Seniors Hurry Through Year

As the final semester progressed, the hectic pace of seniors' lives stepped up even more.

They traded name cards and ordered graduation announcements. They signed hundreds of pictures, finding for the first time how many "cute kids" and "swell friends" they knew.

Being measured for caps and gowns made June 5 seem closer than ever.

With the first hints of spring seniors began to suffer from the chronic restlessness that resigned faculty members called "senioritis." They felt almost obliged to have a last fling, and were frustrated to find no time for it.

Seniors Face World As Final Year Ends

Seniors stood at the end of one world and the beginning of another. The sense of finality intensified their feelings about everything they did.

As graduation approached, seniors remembered nostalgically their last Homecoming, last basketball tournament, last Recognition Day.

Busy as they were with school, seniors knew that decisions about colleges, jobs, marriage, or the armed forces had to be made now. And however they might regret leaving high school, the possibilities of the future intrigued them.

The last weeks of school, with final exams and graduation preparations, flew like so many minutes.

Then it was time for Baccalaureate, for tassled caps and gowns, for proud parents and Commencement ceremonies. It was time for the Class of 1961 to meet the world.

Careers, Tests Engage Juniors

Sporting new class rings, juniors settled down to a year of activities with emphasis on the future and careers.

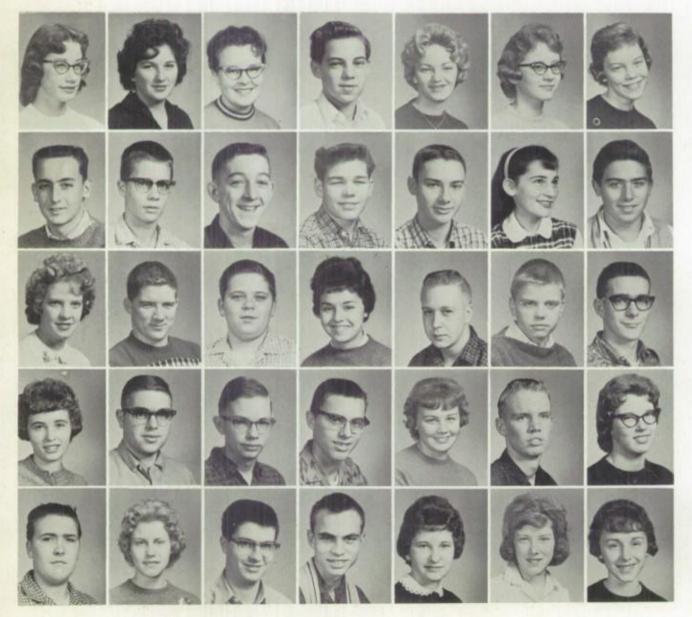

College-minded students took PSAT's, Merit Scholarship Tests, and state-district scholarship tests, as well as a flurry of regular class quizzes and exams.

Juniors' extracurricular activities included plays, athletics, the GAA Ohio-Michigan game, and cheerleading.

The class sponsored the traditional Sadie Hawkins Dance in November.

Juniors served the school as librarians, team managers, office workers, and club officers.

Eight juniors who were outstanding in leadership, scholarship, character, and service were selected for membership in the National Honor Society.

Busy Sophomores Pursue Studies

Sophomores also made their mark.

Boys took an active part in reserve sports, and several made the varsity football team. Girls were eligible to join GAA, and two played in the Ohio-Michigan game.

Pep, marching, and German band members provided rousing music for basketball and football games and pep rallies.

Many girls participated in Tri-Hi-Y projects, including the sale of mints and the much-awaited dinner dance in April.

Midwinter found tenth graders dissecting crayfish in biology lab, studying the American Revolution in world history, and plotting isosceles triangles in plane geometry.

On the lighter side, sophomores threw a class party in the fall, featuring games, dancing, refreshments, and a skit.

DON'T SIT under the apple tree with anyone else but the freshman officers—Dottie Colish, treasurer; Jennifer Ross, secretary; Cindy Johnson, president; and Stephanie Schillig, vice president.

New Privileges Delight Frosh

With new privileges and the title of "freshmen," ninth graders began their first year of high school.

They were eligible to join FTA, Hi-Y, or Art Club. Girls who had earned enough points by second semester were accepted for GAA.

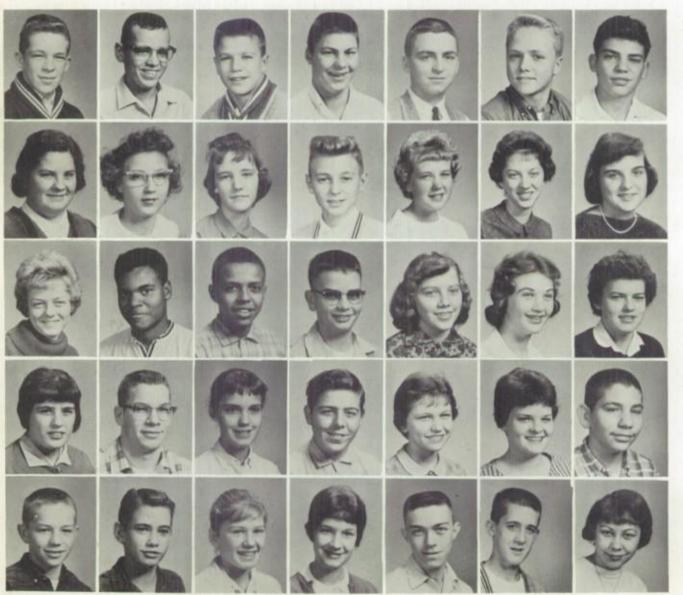

Two freshman girls were reserve cheerleaders. Several athletic frosh made the reserve teams.

Musicians participated in NOL festivals, and many attended meets at Gibsonburg and Delaware.

They took District-State Scholarship tests and vied for prizes in the freshman Alcohol Essay Contest, sponsored by the WCTU.

Frosh were offered a wide range of electives including Spanish, Latin, typing, and mechanical drawing.

Class offices were held by four girls. The class had two representatives in Student Council.

8th Graders Like Sports, Music

Eighth graders, now veterans of changing classes and being part of high school life, found their seventh grade training coming in handy.

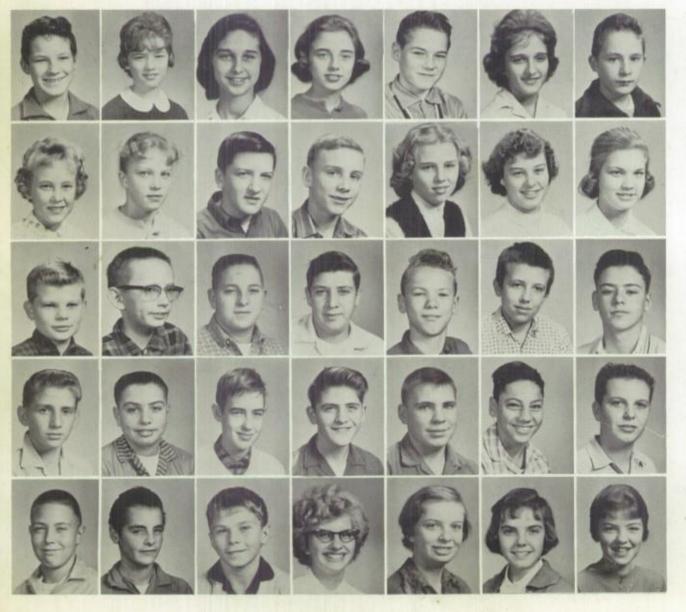

Many of last year's instrumental musicians qualified for band and orchestra. They were entitled to attend the banquet in the spring.

Eighth grade athletic teams were comprised of some of the same boys who had enjoyed sports in the seventh grade.

Social studies provided interesting activity. Mrs. Catherine Rogers' government classes presented skits about the Civil War. Mr. Sam Nan's classes staged a small-scale campaign and a mock election.

Real-for-sure elections were held when eighth graders chose class officers and a Student Council representative.

Eighth graders joined their seventh grade buddies at the spring party and picnic.

School Enthralls New 7th Graders

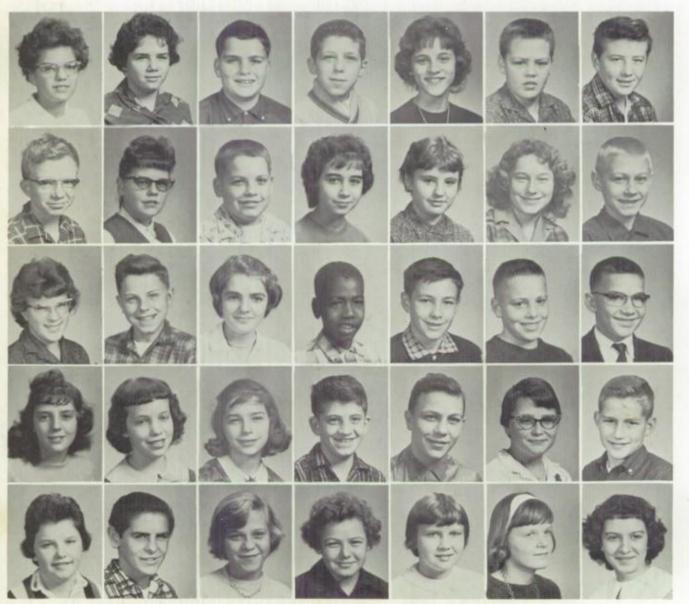

"Bewildered" could have described the seventh grader's frame of mind last September 7. While experienced upperclassmen streamed past him in the halls, he was lost in a jumble of room numbers, locker combinations, new teachers, and strange faces.

Nine months later he could look back on his first year of junior high with pleasure and satisfaction.

Seventh grade meant a different teacher for every class, shop or home economics, physical education, the daily rush to the cafeteria, and library privileges.

The musically-inclined seventh grader signed up for band, string class, or chorus. Art was also available.

The four class officers, all boys, helped to plan their spring party and picnic in May.

RON CRAVEN typifies a student pursuing an average day's activities as he hangs his coat in his locker . . .

Hum of Activity

"Hi!" Lockers slam, books drop. So begins another day at "the old grind."

Halls and homerooms resound with questions on homework and just friendly chatter. "May I have your attention, please?" Principal James Ross announces the day's meetings and menu.

"Front and center!" directs Mr. Grant Walls. Sewing machines whir in the home economics room as do lathes in the shop. Upstairs, typewriters click as agile fingers punch out timed writings. Pop! as a chemistry student makes the burning splint test for hydrogen. "Wunderbar..." the chorus soars.

IT'S another day as Candace Brechwald, Ron Craven, and Tom Dieffenderfer mount familiar side-street steps, equipped and ready for classroom, gym floor, and laboratory.

SENIOR study hall proves to be one of the noisest

... eyes the day's fare of soup 'n' sandwiches in the cafeteria line . . .

. . . observes a vibragraph's results in physics lab . . .

... and, loaded with books and gym gear, trudges out the door.

Marks Busy Day

Eleven-thirty. Halls clear fast as hungry pupils head for cafeteria or restaurant. Soon they return for a quick ball game or to finish an assignment. And always talking, talking!

School resumes. "Escriban ustedes las preguntas," from Spanish class. "Therefore X equals 7." Thump goes the ink stamp as a librarian dates a book. "An adjective tells which, what, kind of, or how many."

Three-thirty. Lockers slam, books drop. Tomorrow it will all start again, the hum of school life. But that's another day.

NATURE provided a preview of spring in February, and cheerleaders took advantage of the mild weather to stage an outdoor pep rally.

Special Events Add Gay Touch To Year

Willing and enthusiastic decorating committees transformed bare rooms to set the mood for the school year's special events.

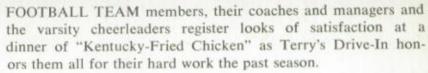

"Golden Autumn" was the theme of Homecoming, planned and carried out by GAA girls. A month later the gym floor was littered with straw for the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Tri-Hi-Y girls set up a Christmas tree under which students deposited their white gifts at the Christmas assembly.

Art students and committees worked diligently to make the Tri-Hi-Y Dinner Dance and the Senior Prom two sparkling successes.

"THUNDER ON Sycamore Street" finds irate father Stuart Rubinow slapping his defiant son Walter Pleasnick before wife Susan Renneckar and son Bill Comer.

Spirit Found in

Togetherness. That's what the study experts call it. But at school it's the loyal, one-of-the-gang feeling you get doing things together.

Like a team. Remember the whole mob eating fried chicken at Terry's? And the mutual, remorseful silence riding home after the Shelby football defeat?

Clubs are that way, too. Decorating for a dance, making favors for the hospital, swimming together, or voting on something provides moments when you are warm and content with the companionship of others.

Class plays require cooperation of cast and stage crew for smooth production.

Togetherness is apparent at sports events. Teammates have to have an all-for-one spirit or they are defeated before the game starts. They need the fans behind them one hundred per cent.

The feeling of belonging comes when you're staring at the symbol of free people during the "Star Spangled Banner" or yelling for the boys in those last suspenseful seconds of play.

Togetherness is just one of the many things that make school spirit.

Truckers Triumph For Senior Court

By handing Bellevue a 30-24 defeat October 7 the Truckers set the stage for a joyous Homecoming week end.

At the Homecoming dance October 8 Sharon Burras was crowned the 1960 Queen by football captain Jim Smith. She and her all-senior court, Nancy Albritton, Judy Johnson and Kathy Orr, reigned over the dance.

Queen Sharon was escorted by senior end Dave Culver, Nancy by senior tackle Dave Lowe, Judy by senior halfback Dave Carpenter, and Kathy by senior fullback John Levers.

ASSEMBLING before the traditional Homecoming dance are the 1960 Queen and her court: Kathy Orr, John Levers, 1959 Queen Barbara Saladin, Bill Gelvin, Queen Sharon Burras, Dave Culver, Nancy Albritton, Dave Lowe, Judy Johnson, and Dave Carpenter.

OIVERSITY In unity --in Activities

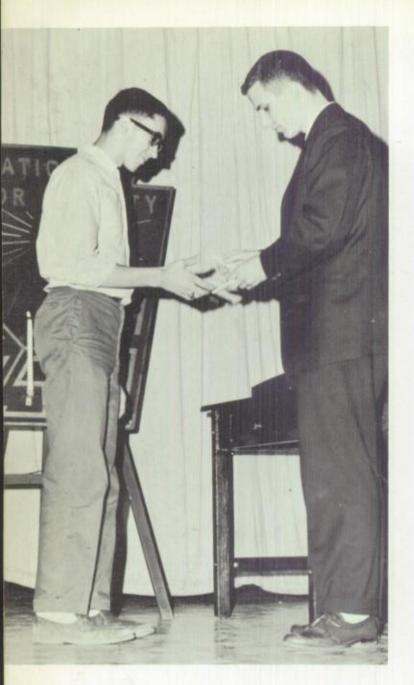

The unity of purpose within any club or organization necessitates complete cooperation among its elements.

In band or orchestra or chorus, many separate and distinct sounds must be blended for the end result of harmony.

This principle applies equally to school clubs, whether large openmembership organizations like Tri-Hi-Y or small elected groups like Student Council. Each member must subordinate himself to the club as a whole, even when it requires a compromise in his wishes. Officers learn that leadership includes respect for opinions and desires of their members.

Learning to enjoy working with all kinds of people for common goals is an integral part of the activities program.

CHARLES HEYMAN, senior, receives his pin and membership card from Terry Tutchings, a two-year member.

Honor Society Taps 21 New Members

"Always strive for something higher in order to succeed in life," emphasized the Reverend John Herrion of Willard at the National Honor Society assembly April 19 as 21 new members were tapped for membership.

Vivian Keinonen, senior member, presided over the ceremony introducing Principal James Ross, who explained the requirements for election to the Honor Society. To be elected the student must first be in the upper 25 per cent of his class. Then the faculty selects members on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

Four senior members gave short talks: Stuart Rubinow on the importance of scholarship; Jeff Laycock, leadership; Dave Carpenter, character; and Janet Freeman, service.

Senior member Terry Tutchings, in an impressive candle ceremony, led the new members in the Honor Society pledge after Pat Skinn, senior, had called the names of each newly-elected member to receive his pin and membership card. These new members had been tapped by the seven two-year members elected last year.

New juniors were Sue Alleshouse, Doris Dickerson, Willetta Embick, Bob Factor, Karen Gettles, Mary Ellen Griffin, Gwen Robinson, Dorothy Saladin, and Jack Tossell.

New senior members were Dave Adelman, Lynn Casper, Ron Craven, Jim DeZelar, Dianne Fowler, Charles Heyman, Judy Johnson, Aldis Kangars, Penny Sanger, Judy Spalsbury, Henry Timman, and Lynette Walls.

Council Introduces Orientation Program

As the only organization representing all six grades, Student Council had a special responsibility to the student body. In the first few weeks of school, the Council scheduled meetings with new students, introducing them to their representatives and answering questions about school.

A panel of Council members, made up of one representative from each class, debated dating problems at a meeting of the Child Study Club.

Advised by Mr. Jack White, the group also designated dress-up days and served with faculty members on a committee to elect reserve cheerleaders.

Y-Clubs Represented At Model Legislature

Participating in local and area activities kept Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y members and officers busy.

The Stewart Hi-Y Club held a car wash for World Service money and put on the annual Thanksgiving service at school.

As guests of the club, parents of basketball players had reserved seats at the last home league game. The boys went swimming together in the Sandusky pool and held a joint Halloween party with Tri-Hi-Y.

Tri-Hi-Y girls sold and ate boxes and boxes of mints for World Service, cut out hearts for Valentine favors, and presented the Easter services for senior high and junior high.

They helped collect for the Heart Fund, decorated the school Christmas tree, and held a dinner dance in April.

Six members of both clubs were delegates to Model Legislature. Serving on the state Hi-Y Council were Terry Tutchings and Janet Freeman.

Future Teachers Plan for Careers

To prepare members for teaching careers is the purpose of FTA which is open to students in grades 9 through 12.

Induction of new members and the Christmas party were held jointly at the home of Gay Hart December 15. Old and new members exchanged gifts.

A panel discussion with the PTA Council informed FTA members concerning the PTA scholarship. Other teenage problems were discussed. Five students were members of the panel.

As a money-making project for the club, members sold blue and gold portfolios with a large "N" on the front.

GAA Encourages Physical Fitness

Girls are not excluded when it comes to sports. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have earned 200 points in intramural games may join GAA.

Planning the Homecoming weekend was the biggest undertaking of the club this year. Girls were in charge of crowning the queen and organizing the dance the following evening.

With some veterans and some newcomers, Ohio-Michigan teams battled for a victory April 7. Coaches, Mrs. Carol Gregory for Ohio and Miss Carolyn Tate for Michigan, were satisfied with the performance of their teams.

Climaxing a year of hard work and fun was the mother-daughter banquet at which awards were presented to those who had earned them.

Musical Events Show

Versatility

GUIDED BY Mr. Raymond Zuercher, Bruce Ward, Maxine Header, Karen Keefer, James Root, and Gary Greene sing from Herbert's "The Fortune Teller."

Through performance in a widely varied schedule of events, the music department plays an integral part of school and community life.

With sharp, precise maneuvers and brisk music, the marching band added its own particular flavor to football game half times and civic parades. The marching band also performed for the county fair, at a political rally, and for the dedication of a monument at the city offices.

It is in the school, however, that the music department centers most of its activity. During the school year the symphonic band and the orchestra united for two public concerts, and the orchestra and choruses also presented joint programs on two occasions. On a lighter note, pep and German bands kept school spirit high at basketball games and pep rallies.

Select musicians participated in District and Regional Orchestras and District Band; one student from this group was also invited to play with the State Orchestra in Columbus.

As a fitting climax to a full season, the symphonic band, minus its graduating seniors, provided musical interludes for Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises in June.

Third Row: Lenora Woods, Terry Tucker, Linda Schlosser, Sue Alleshouse, Camie Felter, Judy Rubinow, Christie Berner, Stephanie Smith, Gale Jennings, Skip Croft, Robert Bores, Jack Arthur, Tom Barr. Fourth Row: Dennis Tucker, Mary Morrow, Sam Cardman, Paul

Participation in music festivals throughout the state highlighted the orchestra's year.

Select musicians traveled to Gibsonburg for the District Orchestra and to Sylvania for the Regional Orchestra. The entire group played in the NOL Orchestra Festival in Port Clinton April 1.

Jeff Laycock, bassist, was asked to perform with the State Orchestra in Columbus in April.

The orchestra performed at the White Gift assembly and Christmas concert and joined symphonic band for two concerts. A pit orchestra accompanied the chorus in "The Fortune Teller."

Performing for civic functions was one of the band's chief activities this year. In addition to appearing at all football games and parades, the marching band played at the Huron County Fair, at a political rally held for Gov. Rockefeller, and at the dedication of a new civic monument.

The symphonic band presented two concerts during the year, and performed in District and NOL Band Festivals. Mrs. Reese Lawyer, local piano teacher, performed a Mendelssohn concerto with the band in the spring concert.

"The Fortune Teller," an operetta by Victor Herbert, was presented March 25. The famous Broadway production was the highlight of the choruses' work of the year.

Characters of the two-act operetta were Bill Smith (Fresco), Bruce Ward (Count Berezowski), Ike Hill (Lt. Timar), Pete Linder (Lt. Alimir), Jo Ellen Hyatt (Wanda), Donna Burnette (Vera), Maxine Header (Irma), Gary Greene (Capt. Ladislaus), Jim Root (Sandor), Patsy Faulhaber (Musette), Rick Naley (Boris), Gillian Wiggins (Vaninka), Mary Ann Whiteman (Mme. Pompon). Rita Oney was special soloist.

The story is centered around the Royal Lottery ticket which Count Berezowski is trying to recover. As the ticket falls into various hands, it changes the course of action for many people. Romances are broken and salvaged from this ticket.

Other activities included the Thanksgiving assembly in November and the Christmas program December 19.

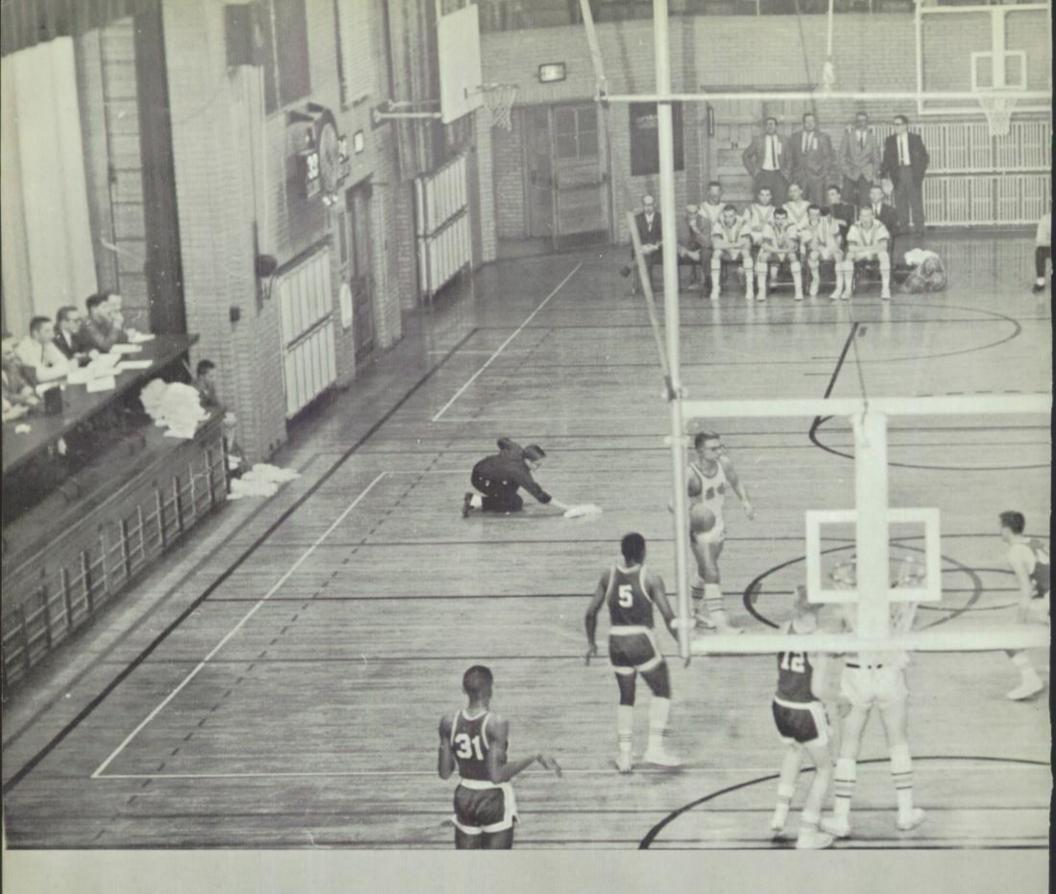

The group sang in the Northern Ohio League Choral Festival at Shelby April 14 and in the Norwalk Festival April 28.

OIVERSITY IN UNITY --in Athletics

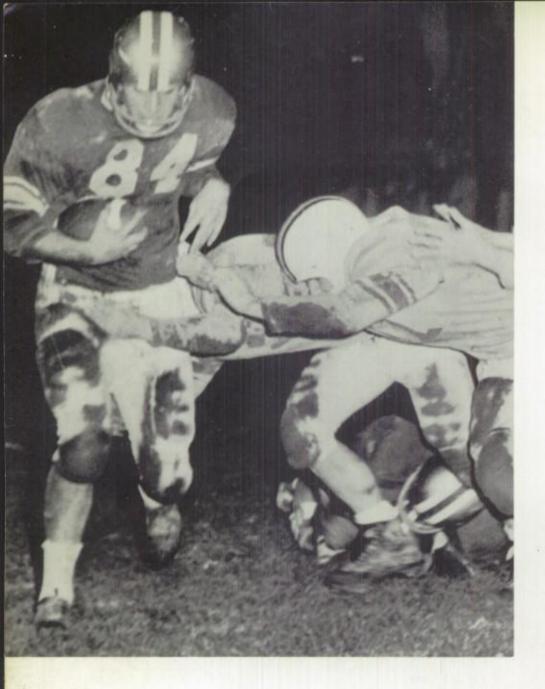

"V-I-C-T-O-R-Y, is the Truckers battle cry!" went the favorite cheer at basketball pep assemblies. Each class tried to out yell the others in this cheer, but when game time came they only tried to beat the opponents.

Athletic success is certainly based on teamwork, but that encompasses much more than cooperation among the boys on the football field or basketball floor or cinder track.

The whole picture includes the cheerleaders, screaming with joy or anguish and exhorting the fans to yell—"Louder!"; the coaches, watching calmly or not so calmly as their charges perform; and the crowd, made up of nervous mothers and tense girl friends and loyal classmates of the players, as well as the people who just like to watch sports.

Nanmen Set

Time told the tale of how Norwalk lost their strong bid for a first Northern Ohio League football title. In spite of having set a new school record of eight consecutive wins, the championship was lost in the final seconds to Shelby, the only other undefeated NOL team.

UPPER SANDUSKY backs converge in rhythmical sequence on senior fullback John Levers as the Truckers march to a 52-8 victory.

TEAMING UP on a Bucyrus halfback in the initial NOL outing are Dave Lowe, Steve Schillig, and Tom Smith.

Consecutive Win Record

However, the Truckers enjoyed an otherwise unblemished season. Coached by Sam Nan, they started off the season on the right foot by defeating Huron, 20-8, and trouncing Bowling Green, 28-0. Halfback Bill Gelvin starred in the latter game by scoring four touchdowns.

In the defeat of Bucyrus, 38-20, halfback Steve Schillig put on a fine one-man show by gaining over 175 net yards and scoring three TD's.

A stubborn Tiffin Columbian opposition proved more difficult, but the Nanmen came out on top, 24-14.

Before a Homecoming crowd of 4000, the Truckers edged Bellevue, 30-24, for their first win over the Redmen since 1952.

Schillig's 84-yard return of the second half kickoff carried Norwalk to a 20-14 victory over Galion. The next week they defeated Willard, 16-6. October 27 the Truckers chalked up their eighth straight victory by barreling over the Upper Sandusky Rams, 52-8.

In the final and championship game, the Nanmen were on Shelby's 17-yard line when the clock ran out. As a result they lost their only game, 16-12.

Nan Pilots Team Toward Record Season

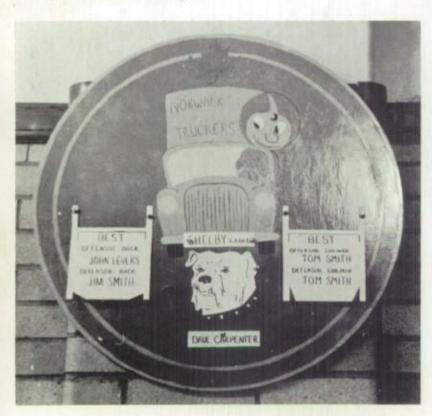

Enthusiasm, inspiration, and desires blended with hard work and effective drilling proved to be potent medicine as the Truckers, backed by a stalwart student body, bounced from a previous 3-6 record to capture eight consecutive wins against one loss for the 1960 grid season.

Instilling these qualities in his team was chief technician and head coach Samuel Nan. Taking over as head mentor in 1959, Coach Nan has turned in an 11-7 record to date and has established a new consecutive win record.

Rounding out the competent staff were assistant coaches Howard Hershey, backfield; Tony Zuppe, tackles and ends; Harley Campbell, guards and centers. Coach Campbell, a '59 graduate of Ashland College, came to Norwalk this year and contributed much to the success of the season.

Coach Harry Shadle, Norwalk's 15-year veteran, was assisted by Mr. Ray Skinner, former Milan teacher who joined the Truckers' staff this season.

WEEKLY standouts have their names placed on the coaches' award board in the main hall.

COACH NAN, clip board in hand, paces the yardstripes in the tension of the NOL championship contest while dismay looms on the faces of Jim Wise and Eric Kohlmyer. The Truckers put forth a valiant effort, but their time proved too short as the gun sounded on the 16-12 loss when they were inside the 10-yard line.

Five outstanding senior gridders sparked the recordbreaking 1960 football season.

Chosen for the Northern Ohio all-League team and all-Ohio defensive second team was end Dave Culver. Dave also received honorable mention all-Ohio Associated Press and was awarded the Best Offensive Back Trophy by his teammates.

Tom Smith, all-league center, also received honorable mention all-Ohio and captured both Best offensive and Defensive Lineman Trophies.

Retaining his all-league halfback position from last season, Steve Schillig tied fullback John Levers for the Best Offensive Back Trophy.

Captain Jim Smith copped the Bulldog of the Year Trophy awarded for all-round performance.

Veteran peppers Sharon Burras, Sue Renneckar, and Sally Van Doren, along with Camie Felter, comprised the varsity cheering squad. They presented pep assemblies featuring the German band and such speakers as football Coach Sam Nan, Principal James Ross, and retired faculty member the Reverend P. J. Garcia.

Backing reserve athletes were Sandra Barr, Lydia Koslow, Sue Liedorff, and Linda Shere.

The eighth grade pep squad consisted of Johanna Barnhart, Barb Craven, Gretchen Faulhaber, and Cyndy Maxwell.

Seventh grade cheerleaders were Paulie Angelas, Anne Lawyer, Nancy Perkins, and Nancy Ryle.

TRUCKERS' two tallest men, Dave Culver (32) and Dallas Newton, gain rebounding position in a Sectional Tourney victory over Port Clinton.

"King Killers" Take

Triumphant Truckers finished the season as Sectional Co-champs and District Runners-up with a record of 15-5.

Big Blue started the season by blasting Clyde, 64-38, and Huron, 68-41. Losing two straight to Newark, 43-47, and University School, 46-50, Truckers came back to beat old rival Bellevue, 61-54. Rolling Truckers then took Fremont St. Joe, 56-47, and Plymouth, 56-51.

Wallsmen started league play with a satisfying victory under their belts by tromping Galion, 74-42. Shelby and Tiffin also fell beneath the Big Blue, 70-40 and 60-43, respectively. Suffering their first league loss to Upper Sandusky, 54-68, Truckers the next night beat non-league Port Clinton, 78-37. Truckers felt their last league loss as Bucyrus nipped them, 38-44. Norwalk again beat Bellevue, 66-53.

"King Killers" took NOL Champs Willard, 54-35, to finish second in NOL, then took Buckeye Conference Champs Sandusky in an overtime, 46-42, on consecutive nights.

Truckers took the Sectional title by beating Port Clinton, 63-52, and Vermilion, 79-66. They then won the District Runner-up title by taking Marion Harding, 63-55. They dropped a 41-55 decision to Sandusky.

Norwalk gained the title "King Killers" by beating Fremont St. Joe (Sandusky Bay Champs), Plymouth (Richland County Champs), Sandusky (Buckeye Champs), Vermilion (Lakeland County Champs), and Willard (NOL Champs).

DALLAS NEWTON uses height advantage to score against Clyde.

Newton High Scorer, Tops in Rebounding

Over-all balance and plenty of height carried the Truckers to a second place berth in the NOL and to the District finals in post-season tournament play.

Norwalk's evenly balanced attack is pointed out especially well in individual scoring statistics. Big Dallas Newton, Wallsmen's 6-ft. 8-in. center, topped the field with 229 points, but forwards Dave Adelman and Dave Culver were close behind with 204 and 177 markers, respectively.

It was the same story in the rebounding department as Newton led with 170 grabs, while Adelman was second with 112 and Culver third with 104.

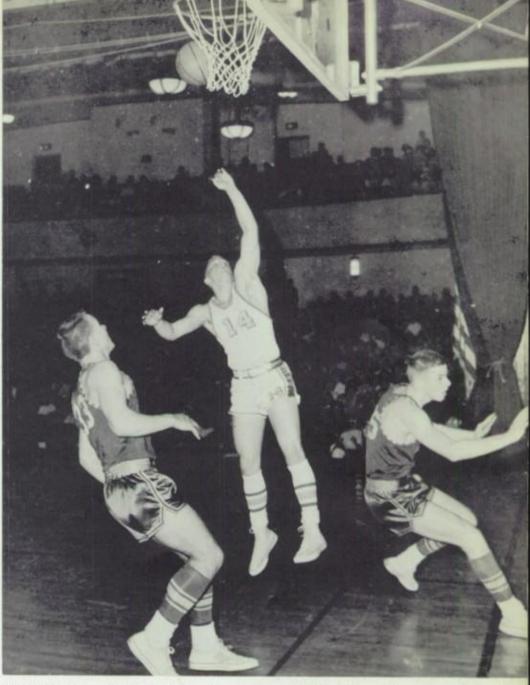

There was no trouble in spotting the top foul-shooter. Guard Steve Schillig walked away with this honor by tossing in 63 shots out of 85 attempts for a remarkable 74 per cent. He made 13 straight fouls in the Sectional finals to set a new school record. Aldis Kangars was a distant second with 21 one-pointers out of 31 attempts.

Schillig also led in total number of assists with 69. Guard Jeff Laycock was close behind with 66.

Jayvees Total 8-8 Season Record

The reserve squad, led by Coach Ray Skinner, split its games for an 8-8 season record.

Jayvees started out by losing four: Clyde, 31-38; Huron, 19-48; Newark, 25-75; University School, 35-59. But rival Bellevue fell beneath the rolling Truckers, 36-35.

Fremont St. Joe and Plymouth both tasted defeat, 40-31 and 30-24, but Truckers were halted by Galion, 40-42. Rambling over Shelby, 48-42, the Truckers then edged out Tiffin Columbian, 42-40. Stalled by Upper Sandusky, 35-40, they bounced back to down Port Clinton, 40-28.

Bucyrus toppled them, 29-38, but the fighting Truckers returned to take Bellevue for the second time by one point, 30-29. A loss to Willard, 38-50, and a rousing victory over Sandusky, 42-28, concluded the 8-8 season record.

Top scorers were junior guard Tom Penfield with 103 points and 6-ft. 4-in. sophomore center John Schroeder with 93 points. Top foul shooters were Penfield with 41 out of 63 for 65 per cent and junior guard Ray Smythe with 20 out of 32 for 62.5 per cent.

8th Finish With 6-6

Fundamentals of passing, dribbling, and setting up plays were stressed this year at the seventh and eighth grade levels of cage play.

The eighth grade, behind the fine all-around play of Dave Ross, their leading scorer, and Alan Burton, their leading rebounder, chalked up a season mark of 6 wins and 6 losses. At the same time, Ron Shankman and Roger Wilkinson were doing most of the scoring for the seventh graders in their march toward a season of 5 wins and 7 losses.

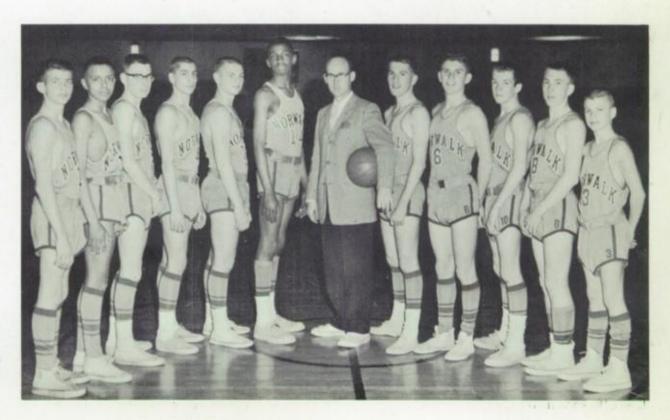

ONE DUTY of varsity managers Doug White and Dave Steffanni is cleaning basketballs.

COMING OUT of his "spin," Dave Adelman heaves the discus a record-breaking 142 ft., 2 in.

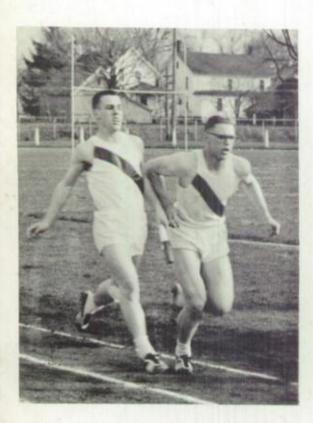

THE CROSSBAR at this height apparently poses no problem for junior Bill Landenberg as he soars over with room to spare.

Swift Thinclads Set

Trucker thinclads wasted little time in rewriting Norwalk's track "record book" as Dave Culver, Dave Adelman, and Steve Schillig set new marks in the first two meets of the year.

Culver snapped the 220-yard dash and shot-put records while Adelman set a new discus mark and Schillig broke the existing school record in the 180-yard low hurdles.

Members competing in field events were: shot-put—Culver, Smith, Newton; discus—Adelman, Smith, Newton; pole vault—Hill, Robbins, Neal; high jump—Landenberg, Levers, Craven; broad jump—Nickoli, Bowers, Culver.

DAVE CULVER receives the baton from Bruce Bowers in the 880-yd. relay.

RECORD-BREAKING form in the lowhurdles is exhibited by Steve Schillig.

GUNARS BRUNAVS takes this high hurdle without breaking stride.

Four School Records

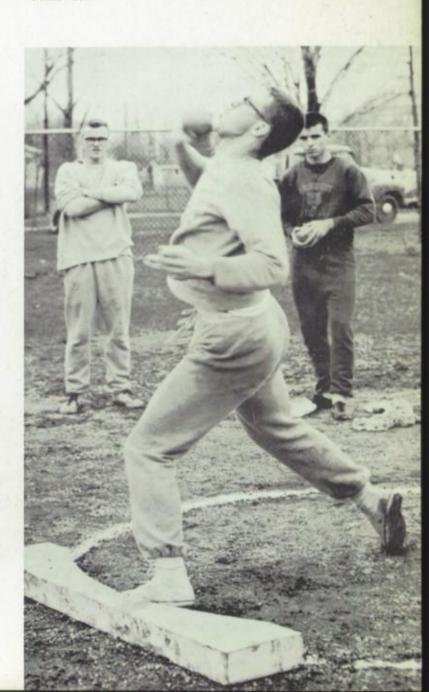

Those participating in running events were: 100-yard dash—Culver, Schillig, Nickoli; 120-yard hurdles—Brunavs, Craven, Ward; mile run—Dickman, Knoll, Paplinski; 880-yard run—Kubin, Dickman, Cleland; 220-yard run—Culver, Nickoli, Naszodian; 440-yard run—Carpenter, Meagrow, Hanson; 180-yard low hurdles—Schillig, Ward, Bowers; mile relay—Hanson, Meagrow, Koslow, Carpenter; 880-yard relay—Schillig, Nickoli, Bowers, Culver.

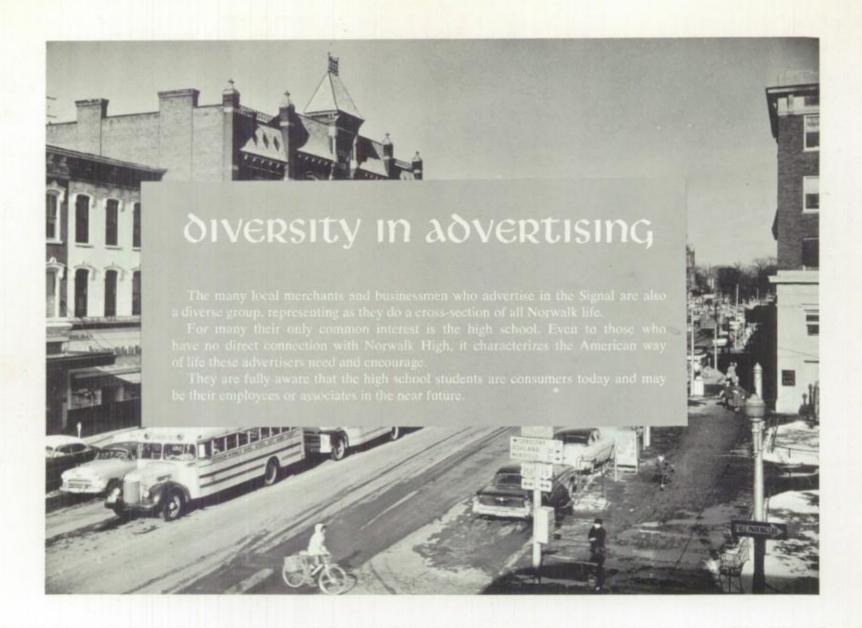

CULVER PUTS the shot better than 47 ft. to set a school mark.

SHOOTING OUT of the blocks in the 440-yd. dash, Alex Koslow and Harry Meagrow sprint for the lead position.

PURPOSE OF NORWALK BOOSTERS CLUB

- To stimulate school and community interest in the athletic programs of the Public Schools.
- To foster friendly associations and cooperation among the school administration, coaching staff and sports fans of the School District.
- To work toward the coordination of the scheduling of school, athletic and community activities.

WINDOWS of the journalism room shine in the darkness as the staff works into the night.

staff shows diversity

Putting together a yearbook utilizes the talents of every staff member to the best advantage.

The final product is a blend of the patience needed to sort underclassmen's pictures, the inspiration necessary to write good copy, the diligence applied to composing headlines. It displays the results of photographing and cropping, of walking miles to sell advertising, of producing attractive layouts.

From these diversified tasks completed by the staff emerges a unified story of the 1961 school year.
